RE: Testimonial

In October of 2009 I started a company with my cousin Chris Mosby called, The Mosby Group. The Mosby Group is a Lean Business consulting company. One of my first duties was to implement a corporate identity program. I immediately turned to Adam and the team at Adam's Computers. Adam had expanded to include computer graphics and web design with his computer and telecommunications business. I was excited to work with Adam's team on our web design. I am very strict with the standards I desire when it comes to computer graphics and web design. Often times I can find individuals or start-ups who offer web design at a minimal price but I was looking for a design found only at large graphic houses in big cities. Over three months Adam and his team met with Chris and myself several times. We worked on content and design. When it was completed I was never so happy for The Mosby Group but I was just as excited for Adam and his team. They can show-off the type of work they can provide anyone wanting high-level web design. That means they can also produce web designs based on large or small budgets.

In addition, Adam's team created our image (look) with logo, letterhead, envelopes, business cards and more. I am thoroughly pleased with the service, quality of work, and professionalism provided by the entire team at Adam's Computers and I endorse their work.
